IMC Field Offices (IMC FOs)

The Investment Migration Council (IMC) is pleased to announce a new initiative in its long-term strategy to expand its global operations and connectivity with the investment migration community.

In the coming months, the IMC will be replacing its Representative Regional Offices (RROs) with IMC Field Offices (IMC FOs) in various locations where investment migration has a healthy potential for growth and expansion. Initially, field offices will be set up in Antigua & Barbuda, St. Lucia, Grenada, St. Kitts & Nevis, Cayman Islands, United Kingdom, USA, Spain, China Portugal, Dubai, Hong Kong, and Panama. Applications for other locations are also welcomed.

Therefore, an open call to IMC members is now open for members who demonstrate the willingness to participate in this new project.

More information can be found on IMC Field Offices - Investment Migration Council

Three Essential Reasons to Join

1. Achieve greater industry-wide visibility to grow your business
2. Build and contribute to a world-class network of contacts
3. Learn about all the latest developments taking place

Membership Criteria

To become a member, one must have proven expertise within the sector, a good reputation, and a clean professional and personal record.

The IMC has very strict membership admission criteria to ensure its members are of the highest professional standards.

The IMC offers different levels of annual memberships for individual practitioners, academics, firms, associates, governments and affiliates. Membership packages include the below, each offering various levels of benefits.

Two Routes to Membership

1. Membership by Education

The journey to membership via the education route is the recommended one since this strengthens the skills and knowledge of members and by consequence the wider industry. Please click here for further information.

2. Membership by Experience

To follow suit with other professional bodies, membership by experience is offered to those practitioners who meet the necessary criteria in any membership tier to be members of the IMC.

Application can be filled online on www.investmentmigration.org/membership

The Certification in Investment Migration

The Objectives of the IMC Education and Training Division (IMCET)

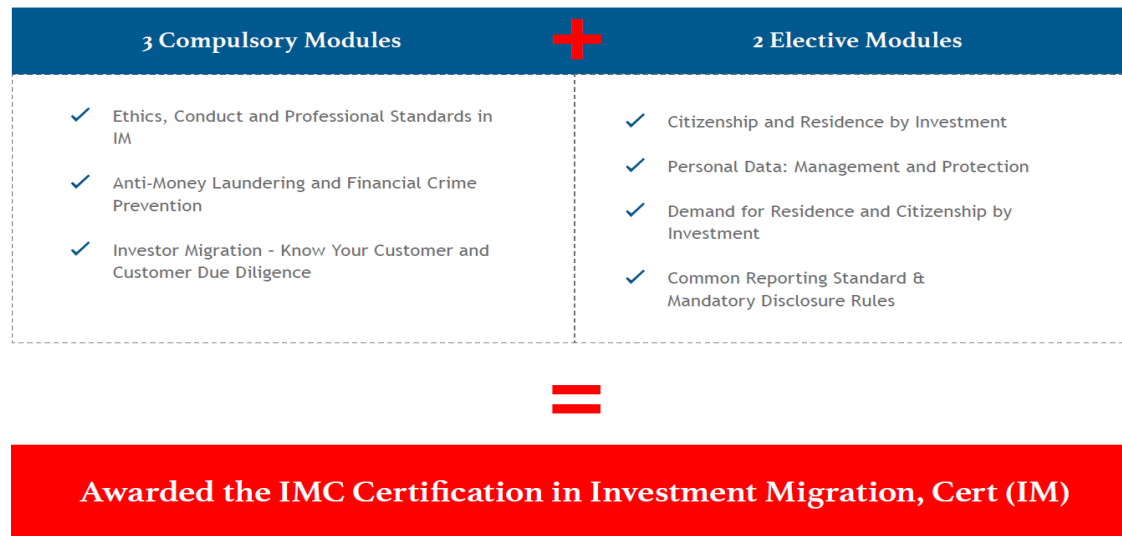

The Certification in Investment Migration

1. The 'Certification in Investment Migration' is the first global IM course of its type, which was specially designed for those working in the industry
2. The course is designed in a way that enables you to study at a time and in a format that works for your lifestyle
3. On successful completion, the 'IMC Certification in Investment Migration' certificate is awarded, together with the designation Cert (IM)

New Training Framework

IMCET's training portfolio now consists of 7 specialised modules. Students can choose to create their own learning journey through a combination of 3 compulsory and 4 elective modules which once successfully completed, will convert in the Cert (IM) designation. The Certification comes at an investment of EUR 750. However, students can now also choose to study Modules individually for EUR 180 each.

Benefits of Certification in Investment Migration

1. Provide verifiable evidence of competency
2. Provide a practical focus and benchmarking of your work in the industry
3. Help you to reduce risk in your firm and enhance the firm's reputation
4. Enhance your career prospects
5. Keep you abreast of developments in the industry

FAQ's

Why does the industry need the IMC?

Until the IMC, there was no body to act as a bridge between governments, academia, and practitioners. The IMC brings all stakeholders together in an independent manner and the interests of all stakeholders are considered for the benefit of the industry.

How many members are participating?

Today, there are nearly 450 members from over 55+ different countries and territories.

Can anyone join?

To become an active member, you must be a practitioner with proven expertise and experience in investor immigration, have a good reputation and a clean professional and personal record. Each application is assessed on its individual merit and considered by the governing board.
